Comment on Population Policy

I would like to reflect my initial opinion on the publication and public involvement for Ethnic minorities. Since the population policy encourages the Ethnic minorities to share their ideas and be involved to unleash their potentials, would Government conduct any public discussion forum for them? Although there are translated leaflet of various EM languages, it would be better to make some hard copies, especially in those districts with more EM population, so that they can be facilitated to know more or to express their voices. I hope the government can show more effort and sincerity to promote real inclusive. Thanks.
