

主旨: population strategy

hi there, I'd like to express my opinions on the captioned topic.

first of all, it's important that a government has a good police in place and let everyone knows about it so that other areas, such public transportation, education, health.... etc can plan ahead.

secondly, quality of immigrants should be ranked as top priority, with a high quality immigrants, a government hardly need to spend money on him/her because these kind of persons are fully equipped to look after themselves, not to mention they can also contribute to the society by participate in the work force and pay income tax. In an indirect way, by spending n saving, bring in new ideas etc.

finally, to have a say in who can come and stay in hk is symbolic of " highly independent in managing the local affairs ". this is also promised by the Chinese government when it signed the "basic law" in conclusion, hk should have a say of who to be admitted and who's not.

thanks n regards,

Vida
