Social integration cannot happen if the ethnic minorities are not absorbed in the workforce. The biggest hinderance created for them is the language (written) which a lot of times is not even needed. THis issue should be addressed at policy level and educational requirements must be adjusted to accomodate the ethnic minorities. It is such a waste when Hong Kong population is ageing and we are not using the strength (young age) of the ethnic minorities.This is a serious issue that need attention because their birth rate is much higher than Hong Kong average. As for the age of retirement Government should take initiative to adjust the age to 65 for civil servants and the industry will follow. Do not go the other way and ask industry to lead and Government will follow. Government needs to be seen as a leader not a follower in both the cases above i.e. ethnic minorities and age adjustment.
