

主旨: Give Views

Name:
so chun kwok

Comments:

Hong Kong is too small to sustain a large population. The government should encourage small families and impose strict immigration control. The theory of a large population equals large economy may be correct but a larger economy will not benefit everyone. As a Hong Kong citizen, I'll prefer a smaller population, smaller economy, in exchange for more space and better quality of life.