

主旨:

Give Views

Comments:

The government should allow civil servants to work beyond 65 years old and also encourage companies to do so. Each Hong Kong citizen should be given the choice to work to any age they want, instead of restricting them the right to work after a certain age. Everybody should be given the chance to work no matter what age they are. They would natural retirement by themselves when the time comes.