In order to enhance the development of Hong Kong, I am here to address my concerns towards the policy of Hong Kong.

Firstly, there are many senior citizens in Hong Kong. Most of them do not have productive. I think the government should provide more welfare for them to maintain their living standard. In Hong Kong, those senior citizens are unemployed; they need to glean in order to earn their living. Government should set up a retirement reward for them. (For example, the government can co-operate with the central government to provide a larger place for them to live) Some of them in Hong Kong lived in sub-divided flat. This reflected that they request to live with a better standard.

Secondly, as Hong Kong is an international city, there are different ethnic minorities working in Hong Kong. However, they do not receive a good treatment from our Hongkongers. And their salary keeps at a low price indeed. The government should provide a subsidy for them. They can have a better social status and boost the relationship of the ethnic minorities and Hongkongers.

Thirdly, as I am a student, I focus more on the educational aspect. I think the government can provide more sources for the graduate who cannot find a job so that they can find a job related to what they have learned. On the other hand, government can provide more subsidies for the university students. Also, government can provide more scholarship for students to apply so that they can portion more money at their interests.

All in all, I think the government should care more about the citizens and knowing more about what the citizens need. Government should impose some useful policies to enhance the development of Hong Kong.
