

主旨:

Give Views

Comments:

Hong Kong should abolish the law which stipulates that anybody who legally and normally stay continuously for seven years will be eligible to apply for permanent residency. This is a law erected in 1996 and Hong Kong people has not been consulted on this law. A lot of people from third world countries such as India has taken advantage of this law to get Hong Kong residency which is not the original intent of the law.