

主旨: Give Views

Comments:

agree to extend the retirement age for short term of manpower shortage as the elderly person nowadays is healthy and strong immigration policy will increase the manpower of hong kong but may also increase the employment rate develop and enhance development of hong kong immigration policy like australia and canada allow the person, who is doing business in their country and employ their country people, to immigrate to their country.

And economic growing will increase the employment rate, not protection policy.